Dear valued GKE customer,

We are happy to announce that Mesa Laboratories has acquired GKE. Both companies are extremely excited about this partnership. GKE is a world leader in sterilization and cleaning process indicators with a strong focus on chemical indicators in the healthcare industry. Mesa is also a leader in sterilization with a strong focus on biological indicators in pharmaceutical and medical device manufacturing industry. Combining GKE and Mesa Labs brings together two complementary businesses that can provide additional value to our collective customers.

You may have questions on how this may impact me. The goal for Mesa is to provide as little disruption to GKE's agents, distributors, partners, and customers as possible. We intend to maintain GKE's strong local presence and brand. Mesa is excited to have the opportunity to continue delivering the high-quality products and proving the sterilization expertise and quality support you have come to know and trust from GKE.

We ask you to conduct business and continue to work with GKE as you have done in the past. Your contacts at GKE will continue to remain the same. Please reach out to them for any business assistance that you may require.

We are truly excited to welcome you to Mesa and invite you to explore here to learn more about why we exist, how we think, and how we operate. Together, GKE and Mesa Labs will be united by Protecting the Vulnerable[®].

Best regards,

Pete Jung
